Style	SPG902 - Deflector ND Recycled		Style Code	SPG902
Style Description
The SPG902 Recycled Deflector ND is purpose-built for modern workplaces that value both high-performance protection and sustainable practices. Featuring a recycled HPPE and steel-fibre seamless liner, this glove reduces environmental impact without compromising on durability, strength, or comfort. The advanced recycled liner provides certified ISO Cut Level D protection, making it a reliable choice for handling sharp materials and performing a wide range of industrial tasks. Engineered for toughness, the SPG902 delivers the highest level of tear resistance, ensuring long-lasting performance even in demanding environments. A nitrile-coated palm and fingertips further enhance durability by offering maximum abrasion resistance, while also improving grip and control. Designed with user convenience in mind, the glove includes a screen-touch function, allowing workers to interact with mobile devices and touchscreens without removing their gloves. The extended ribbed cuff offers additional wrist protection and a secure fit, and the seamless construction ensures superior comfort throughout the workday.
